

OneUNIT Cocktail Competition

Cocktails are more popular than ever before. Simultaneously, guests are becoming increasingly aware of responsible alcohol consumption. Introducing the oneUNIT cocktail, a drinks category with cocktails that contain less alcohol, but are just as tasty.

With the oneUNIT Consumer Cocktail Competition guests & amateur cocktail shakers are challenged to show their knowledge and skills to this growing category by creating amazing cocktails that contain no more than oneUNIT.

Consumer Round

Following up on the three professional bartender competition rounds in this year's oneUNIT competition, we have opened up the competition for guests & amateur cocktail shakers. This round will have its final at The Stockroom Groningen on October 4th. The winner of this round will win a spending voucher for The Stockroom and will get a judging spot for the grand final during the Horecava in January 2021!

The oneUNIT cocktail competition round consists of two phases:

Recipe Submission

You can submit your concept, motivation and recipe by signing up on <http://www.oneunit.nl/competition> before the deadline. Add an amazing picture of your drink and show it through your social media channels to gain extra points and secure a spot in the top 6 who get to present their oneUNIT cocktail in front of a panel of judges.

Competition day

If you're one of the top 6 you will get the chance to present your cocktail to the judges at The Stockroom. The winner of this round will be presented on the same day.

On the following pages you will find the rules & regulations, judging criteria and a FAQ. Only with a good understanding of these you will have a chance to win the competition, make sure you read them thoroughly!

If you hold any questions, you can send them to noumy@typhoonhospitality.com.

Judging Criteria

We will be looking for a perfect balance between performance, concept and cocktail. Therefore we have three main criteria we judge on:

1. Cocktail – 60 points in total
2. Performance – 60 points in total
3. Online presence – 20 bonus points

COCKTAIL

A winning OneUnit cocktails is a drink that, despite containing no more than oneUNIT of alcohol, can compete with the classic and modern cocktails.

Appearance – 10 points

First impressions count! Does your drink look visually appealing? Is the washline correct? Do the choice of vessel and garnish make sense for the drink? Do the colors, garnish and glassware work well together?

Taste & Aroma – 20 points

Your drink should be delicious and well balanced. Every ingredient should make sense and form a harmony. It should be tastefully appealing to a broad audience and, most importantly, you want to finish the drink and immediately order seconds.

Complexity & Originality – 20 points

Less alcohol than a classic cocktail does not have to mean less complexity! Challenge yourself in finding new ways of building a recipe where the alcoholic element is not necessarily the main character. How will your oneUNIT cocktail contribute to a new and growing category?

Replicability – 10 points

The perfect OneUnit cocktail should be enjoyable around the world! Could your drink be easily made by fellow consumers and are the ingredients widely available? Good replicability does not mean that you can't experiment with new ingredients and techniques, but always keep the elegance of simplicity in mind!

PERFORMANCE

How will you tell your oneUNIT story?

Concept / motivation – 40 points

Creating a great cocktail takes more than just mixing flavors, how will your oneUNIT cocktail contribute to the mission of responsible alcohol consumption? You will have the complete freedom to wow the judges. Sky is the limit!

Knowledge – 10 points

How well are you aware of the Dutch laws and regulations around serving alcohol? Incorporate your knowledge into your performance to score well here.

Engagement – 10 points

Having a delicious cocktail, strong concept and showing knowledge is great! But are you able to inspire others with it? How well are you engaged with the crowd and the judges? Does your routine start strong and finishes stronger?

ONLINE PRESENCE

OneUNIT is an awareness campaign, how do you contribute? You can score some healthy bonus points by spreading the good word of responsible drinking through your online channels.

Online presence – 20 points

You can gain some easy bonus points here by challenging others to come up with their own oneUNIT cocktail, sharing your recipe or educating your followers on drinking responsible. Do it completely in your own voice and show us some originality in making people aware of the oneUNIT campaign. We will be looking at Instagram and Facebook, both Stories and regular posts. Do not forget to tag us!

Frequently Asked Questions

How do I win the oneUNIT competition?

No two competitions are setup the same way! Fully understand the rules and where to score points, better yet, memorize it! So, if you're not sure about what we look for in a winner, scroll back up and read again!

I made it to the top 6, what is the top 6 competition round all about? We will do a live final competition day at the chosen location. You will make and present your drink to a panel of judges, so train and prepare for it!

What is considered a unit of alcohol?

10 grams of pure alcohol, which equals 12.7ML. But to simplify, we consider 12.5ML of 100% abv as one standard unit. That roughly equals to 30ML of 40% abv, or 240ML of 5% abv (like a beer). To know how many units your cocktail contains, you will need to calculate the grams, or ML, of pure alcohol in the total drink.

How do I calculate the alcohol percentage of my cocktail?

The easiest way is to calculate every alcoholic ingredient of your cocktail separately, including bitters, and then add them up.

The formula is quantity in ML x alcohol percentage / 1250.

For example, a Daiquiri: Rum 60(ML) x 40(% alcohol) = 2400 / 1250 = 1.92 (units).

Clear?

Is there an easier way to calculate the units?

Yes, there is! Go to the calculator on www.oneunit.nl

Where can I find information on Dutch alcohol laws?

There is a lot of info and links on www.oneunit.nl

Can I get deductions?

We do not have a section with deductions, apart from time penalties. We believe that sloppy work will have a negative influence on your drink and performance and thus score you lower on different sections. Make sure you've trained your routine and made your drink many times!

I have seen this 12.5 come by often, is this the amount of spirits I can use in my cocktail?

12.5 stands for the maximum milliliters of pure 100% alcohol in a drink, so not the maximum amount of spirits you're allowed to use in your oneUNIT cocktail.

Does good hygiene count?

We expect you to understand the common hygiene rules, so we do not have a section for this in our rules. However, bad hygiene may result in a lesser impression to the judges.

While we are at it, make sure you're well dressed and presented! Show that you've put in the effort.

General Conditions

1. AGREEMENT TO TERMS & CONDITIONS

By participating, competitors will be deemed to have read, understood and unconditionally agreed to be bound by these Terms and Conditions and by the Competitors Briefing. Decisions of SpiritsNL will be final and binding, and competitors waive any appeal or other remedy.
